

When '69 came we were ahead
of the "boomers" and all their stuff;
A married couple of 30 ... with two kids
"Woodstock" would have been kinda rough.

But Cindy turned eighteen
So was ready for a big change of scene;
"Come try things out in Nashville,
live with us" ... and she was very keen.

Construction was started in springtime,
We would need a bit more room;
The garage converted to playroom,
Plus with the sewing ... it proved a boon.

So sewing was the hot hobby,
and Mae did it really ... "whiz-bang";
New Easter outfit for the kids,
Learned much from her sewing class gang.

Now we had a live-in baby sitter;
Maybe a movie we could enjoy;
What was playing at the local?
"oh, look, it's Midnight Cowboy"!

Moved the TV to the playroom,
A special show one July night;
Armstrong stepped on the moon,
And we all shouted ... "ALL RIGHT"!

Poppa and Grandy and a couple of boys,
A western trip ... in their car;
Rusty went with them too,
Who knew he would go so far!

A brand new school kid,
Became Little Cynthia that year;
And the way her momma dressed her
made her dad stand up and cheer!

Jimmy married Joyce in August,
A couple ... ready for the fray;
'Twas the age of ... Aquarius,
At least that's what some did say.

Well, if a moon walk, music and excitement,
were what life was all about;
I guess we had that a-plenty ... But it was not over ...
we did not doubt!
